

If the FCC should addopt any rule on "no-call" lists it should not preempt state rules but let them prevail if they are more restrictive. The Indiana rule has been effective for me and eliminated most of the unwanted calls. Thank You